Cold Weather Rule 2017-2018

The state's Cold Weather Rule guides utilities on winter disconnections as long as customers follow these main guidelines.

Residential Customer Notice

An electric cooperative must not disconnect and must reconnect the utility service of a home between October 15 and April 15 if the disconnection affects the primary heat source for the residential unit AND ALL OF THE FOLLOWING CONDITIONS ARE MET BY THE CUSTOMER:

1. The household income of the customer is at or below 50 percent of the state median household income. The electric cooperative may verify income on forms it provides or obtain verification of income from the local energy assistance provider. A customer meets the income requirements of this clause if the customer receives any public assistance, including energy assistance that uses an income eligibility threshold set at or below 50 percent of the state median household income;
2. A customer enters into and makes reasonably timely payments under a payment agreement that considers the financial resources of the household; and
3. A customer receives referrals to energy assistance, weatherization, conservation or other programs likely to reduce the customer's energy bills. In addition, an electric cooperative must, between August 15 and October 15 of each year, notify all residential customers of these provisions.

Before disconnecting service to a residential customer between October 15 and April 15, an electric cooperative must provide:

1. A notice of the proposed disconnection; **This is the RED disconnect notice on your monthly bill*
2. A list of energy assistance providers;
3. Forms on which to declare an inability to pay; and
4. A statement explaining available time-payment plans and other options to secure continued utility service.

Restrictions for Disconnection

1. If a customer must be involuntarily disconnected between October 15 and April 15 for failure to comply with the residential disconnection provisions, it must not occur on a Friday, unless the customer declines to enter into a payment agreement offered that day in person or via personal contact by telephone by the cooperative;
2. The disconnection must not occur on a weekend, holiday or the day before a holiday, when utility offices are closed, or after the close of business on a day when disconnection is permitted, unless a representative from the electric cooperative who is authorized to enter into a payment agreement, accept and continue service offers a payment agreement to the customer; and
3. If a customer does not respond to a disconnection notice, the customer must not be disconnected until the utility investigates whether the home is occupied. If the unit is occupied, the utility must immediately inform the occupant of the provisions of this section. If the unit is unoccupied, the utility must give seven days written notice of the proposed disconnection to the local energy assistance provider before disconnecting. If prior to disconnection, a customer appeals a notice of involuntary disconnection, as provided by the utility's established appeal procedure, the utility must not disconnect until the appeal is resolved.

If you need help with your electric bill during the winter months, contact energy assistance and apply for funds. It's very important that this is done right away. IF you receive a Disconnect Notice on your monthly bill, it is YOUR responsibility to either pay the balance by the due date or contact our office before the due date to make other arrangements.

Notice to former Alliant Energy customers:
ATA credit on your electric bill will be ending soon

Alliant Energy has fulfilled its financial obligation to its former customers dating back to the 2007 sale of its transmission assets in Minnesota to ITC Holdings. In 2015, Redwood Electric Cooperative was one of 12 electric cooperatives that purchased Alliant Energy's Minnesota distribution assets. The Minnesota Public Utilities Commission, as a condition of approving the acquisition by the cooperatives, required that Alliant Energy continue to return a portion of its profits from the 2007 transmission sale back to its Minnesota customers.

Redwood Electric members who were former Alliant Energy customers saw this reflected as a line item on their electric bill listed as Alternative Transaction Adjustment (ATA). The ATA credit is scheduled to end soon as Alliant Energy will have paid the required amount of profits back to its Minnesota ratepayers. Before being removed completely in January, members will see a full ATA credit on their November electric bill and a partial credit on the December bill.
